TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

The New York Markets.

New York, 4.—Following is the report of the condition of the markets here for the week ending to-day: General business for the past week has been moderately active, the number of southern and western buyers in the market being larger than usual at this period of the year in dry goods. Domestic are in good demand at the prevailing low prices, and large amounts have been moved on account of previous orders. A good miscellaneous dry goods trade has been done, though buyers are still cautious and prudent in purchases, but more freedom is observable as the season goes on. Large cash purchases are made when inducements are offered. In grain, after the rapid decline of the latter part of last week, prices gradually advanced until Thursday, when they reached about the highest figures of the week for wheat, and the market closed a fraction below the highest rates. Corn showed a moderate decline, and recovered without any wide fluctuations in values, which are not materially different from those of a week ago. The July corner in oats was settled up without any material difficulty or embarrassment to any of the parties concerned, as far as we have been able to discover. August deliveries opened quite firm, with prices from 5 to 7 above those of last month; the later months are a fraction better than they were a week ago. Lard has been strong and has made considerable advance, though closing somewhat weak, at prices some 35 to 38 cents above those of a week ago. Pork has shown strength without any material advance in value, and the fluctuations have been slight. There is a disposition on the part of both bears and bulls in operations in this description of provisions, with a bearish disposition in relation to later months. The cotton market has been dull and rather unsatisfactory. The volume of business has been quite moderate, and there appears to be but few outside operations. There are indications of a possible corner in August cotton, and prices on this description have advanced somewhat like twenty-five points during the week. Petroleum has been somewhat irregular, though fluctuations have not been wide. The markets have been influenced by reports of increased or decreased flows of certain wells. Freight rates have been better on account of the lack of vessels. There has been another decline within a few days on account of the increased in grain. Other descriptions in freight have not materially changed. There is little change in the situation so far as produce is concerned. Receipts of both butter and cheese have been liberal, but prices are maintained. In the last day or two there have been some scarcity in the finer makes of creamery butter, but poor grades seem steady to accumulate here from has been dull, but strong. It is thought the strike is nearing its end, though no sign has been given on the part of the men as yet. The supply of American pig lead is fully equal to the demand. Foreign pig iron is in slight demand, and prices are unchanged. Business in boots and shoes is fairly active, and some buyers from the south and west are already in the market. Manufacturers buy on all goods through the jobbing trade as yet is light. A good sorting-up trade is doing. There is a better feeling in the leather trade, and most kinds are in good request at strong prices, though the business doing is on a small margin of profit. It is said there is a very moderate demand for raw sugar, though prices rule steady on the basis of 7 1/2 c. for fair refining. Refined sugars are quiet, with prices a shade easier. The tea market, outside of the auction, is very quiet, and yesterday did not indicate much change from the previous figures; 4,440 chests were sold. Brazil grades of coffee are rather more in demand, at firm prices, on the basis of 9 1/2 c. for fair cargoes. Mild varieties are in better demand.
